Spring 2017: Community and Regional Planning Program (CRPL 495/ CRPL 895)

Urban Design Seminar

Instructor
Daniel Piatkowski, PhD
dpiatkowski2@unl.edu

Course Description:

This course is an introduction to the theory and practice of urban design. The course focuses on the overlapping fields of design and planning, as well as the myriad impacts of urban design. The course is interdisciplinary in nature, and students from any academic background are welcome. There are no specific course prerequisites, and students are not required to have any formal training in design.

Class meets Wednesdays from 9:30-12:20pm.

University of Nebraska Lincoln