Graduate Research Assistantship Opportunity

Dr. Zhenghong Tang in the Community and Regional Planning program at University of Nebraska-Lincoln seeks for a Graduate Research Assistant (GRA) for 2022-2023. The GRA will have an opportunity to work for environmental conservation planning research projects. If you have interests and skills in remote sensing, image process, GIS analysis, please submit your application for this GRA opportunity.

Salary
12 month/per stipends with health insurance and tuition waiver (student is responsible for fees).

Start Date
Spring 2022 or Summer 2022 or Fall 2022

Qualifications
Specialization or coursework in Remote Sensing/GIS is preferred. Experience in programming and quantitative analysis are desirable.

To Apply
If you are interested in this GRA opportunity, please send the below files to Dr. Zhenghong Tang’s email: ztang2@unl.edu
1. A short cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae

Apply Deadline
November 30, 2021